Egg Incubation and Larval Rearing
of Marine Teleosts:
A bibliography

Compiled by Christopher G. Barlow and Deborah Turnbull

September 1981

The International Development Research Centre is a public corporation created by the Parliament of Canada in 1970 to support research designed to adapt science and technology to the needs of developing countries. The Centre's activity is concentrated in five sectors: agriculture, food and nutrition sciences; health sciences; information sciences; social sciences; and communications. IDRC is financed solely by the Government of Canada; its policies, however, are set by an international Board of Governors. The Centre's headquarters are in Ottawa, Canada. Regional offices are located in Africa, Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East.

IDRC Manuscript Reports

This series includes meeting documents, internal reports, and preliminary technical documents that may later form the basis of a formal publication. Manuscript Reports are given a small distribution to a highly specialized audience.

Preface

The original draft of this bibliography was compiled by Christopher Barlow in February 1978 while he was a researcher in the Philippines at the Pandan Research Station of the Southeast Asian Fisheries Development Centre. It has been updated and prepared for publication by Deborah Turnbull, Fisheries Information Science Specialist for the International Development Research Centre.

This bibliography is a guide to references discussing the methods of incubating the eggs and raising the larvae of marine teleost fish. The titles are listed in alphabetical order according to the author's surname. Subject and taxonomic indices are provided to simplify the retrieval process.
